MISTAKEN OVER WEST PRUSSIA

(Correspondence Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 30.—The Boersen Zeitung asserts that West Prussia was ceded to Poland by the peace conference because of "a mistaken and incorrect scientific book published in 1917 by the American Geographical Society containing an article entitled "The boundaries of language and nationality," by Leon Dominikan."

The German newspaper avers that President Wilson was influenced by the "innocently false information of this article," which, it says, declared that Danzig was 10 per cent Polish and that the present Polish corridor and neighboring East Prussia was purely Polish.

The Boersen Zeitung declares that, on the contrary, Danzig is less than 5 per cent Polish. The newspaper disputes the Polish character of the corridor. It declares that it is certain that the article referred to was used in fixing the boundaries.

FRIGHTEN FISH BY A NOISE

(By Associated Press)

EL PASO, July 23.—What city, state and federal experts here agree is the seventeen-year locust has invaded the El Paso section of the Rio Grande valley. Thus far, however, the insects have done no harm to growing crops, and it is not believed they will appear in devastating numbers.

Reports of the presence of the cicadas were first received from fishermen down the river, who complained that the locusts were making such a noise they were frightening all the fish away.

Specimens of the males show the characteristic "W" sign, which superstition interprets as meaning "war." This marking is made of the triangular markings which form the "fiddle" through which the locust makes his "music."

The damage done by locusts is confined to the injury to trees when the female lays her eggs. The eggs, hatching under the tender bark of young trees, cause it to split until the tiny grub emerges from the crack, drops to the ground and burrows far down, to see the light no more until it comes up seventeen years later. Old trees are not injured by the insects, nor do the cicadas devour other growing things, according to entomologists.

If we understand the situation right, revenue experts have been able to define underwear, but that has nothing to do with the proper classification of the B.V.D.
